Relationship would you rather questions

My experience with all game questions like these...

I play games like “would you rather” and “most likely to” with almost everyone that I know. It could be a girlfriend, guy friend, family member, and many other types of people.

My best tip is to try and tailor the game to the people you are playing with. Of course! You would be surprised how few people actually do that, though!

Don't take the game too seriously, too! It's about having fun! Make sure you're laughing. And when YOU are, everyone else will too!
