My experience with pickup lines...

I've found that the best use of any type of pickup line is to use them as a type of joke. Which you may already know... At least, I hope you do. Use them as a type of joke to break the ice with someone that you like.

It's when they're taken too seriously that they're not that effective. I can speak to this... since I looked at pickup lines as real lines to use to get someone to like me. ☐

Don't do that!

Although, when you want to brighten up someone's day, try a few of these.
